

Personal Development

Through a Leadership or Personal Development course, at least a weekend in duration, Venturer Scouts will seek to improve themselves or their leadership skills.

The course must be a Scouts course, though some are run by external organisations for Scouts. Most courses cover:

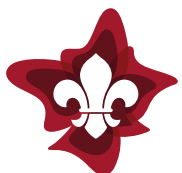

- Problem-solving
- Communication
- Task management
- Leadership
- Planning
- Community involvement

Following your course, you should reflect on it with your Unit Council.

When every other aspect of your Queen's Scout Award is complete, you should also complete a Personal Reflection.

This is a simple event that should involve your Unit and at least one member not in your Unit. You could consider a presentation on your time in Venturer Scouts, a video, a conversation, written element, etc.

You could also consider relating ideas to the Scout Method or SPICES.
